Ike Cohen is in the eastern markets yet, purchasing his stock of clothing and gent's furnishing goods, which are now daily arriving.

Last Thursday the big meter at the gas works registered six million cubic feet, and that is the amount of gas manufactured at the works since it was first started.

A number of fish cans were shipped from the hatchery this week to Northville, as they are wanted to convey live trout from that place to various parts of the country.

The shipments of pulp from the Fletcher factory by rail last week, were 25,000 pounds to Berlin Falls, New Hampshire, and 25,000 pounds to Louisville, Kentucky.

On Wednesday last week Irvin S. Canfield was admitted to the bar by Judge Kelley. The examining committee consisted of G. H. Sleator, W. E. Depew and J. D. Turnbull.

H. Greenbaum is determined to be constantly in the front rank among the clothing kings, and is now east for new fall and winter goods.

The night crew of the Fletcher bay mill were discharged Saturday night, as the firm were unable to get enough logs to keep their two mills running day time and one of them at night. About sixty men are thus out of a job.

L. Aure's farm house, in Wilson township, was burned last Thursday. On the house there was an insurance of $2,500, and the furniture, which was mostly destroyed, was insured for $1,500, in companies of which B. F. Luce & Son are agents.

Don't be in too much of a hurry to buy clothing for fall and winter. Wait till H. Greenbaum returns from the east with his big stock, and get just what you want.

The imports last week were 100 tons of coal, by barge Light Guard, 1,387 bushels of oats, by propeller Abercorn, 141 barrels of flour, by barge Autanta, and the steamer Remora brought five cars of fish from Canada. There is no duty on the fish.

Otto Gjorud has the stone foundation laid for a store building at corner of Dock and Lake streets. The building will be 44x40 feet in size, and be brick veneered. It will be a great improvement over his old store burned down at the time of the big fire in July.

The steamer Remora has taken part of the rafting chains piled on Fletcher's wharf, to French River, Georgian Bay, where the chains are used for rafting square timber from that place to the lower end of the river St. Lawrence. The timber is for the European market.

The new art store, just opened by C. L. Wilson, in the Centennial block, is a valuable acquisition to the business part of the city. The store is well filled with fine art pictures, frames, mouldings, artists supplies, etc., and Mr. Wilson says he has come to stay.

The funeral of Jos. Duncan took place Wednesday forenoon last. The deceased was a member of Pine Forest lodge, A. O. U. W., and the remains were followed to the grave by the society. The family of the deceased will receive $2,000, being the amount of insurance he had in the order. This makes five members of the society that have died since the order was established here, and the amount of insurance $10,000. It has been of immense benefit to five families.

Only 17 lumber vessels cleared from this port last week. Five cargoes went to Toledo, four to Cleveland, two to Detroit, two to Chicago, and one each to New Baltimore, Lorain, Tonawanda and Erie. Amount of lumber exported during the week, 5,350,000 feet.

Over two hundred children of the M. E. Sunday school and their friends took part in the excursion to Van Etten lake, near Osceola, last Wednesday. They had a pleasant picnic on the banks of the lake and enjoyed themselves greatly, returning home on the express in the evening.

The many excursionists who went to Osceola, Sunday last, did not get back to port until nearly twelve o'clock, owing to the steamer Mackinac being detained by heavy weather. The Alpena was also several hours late arriving here Saturday, and many of her passengers had a severe wrestle with seasickness while crossing Saginaw Bay.

During the month of July last the pumps at the water works on the bay shore, made 2,445,409 revolutions, and pumped 48,908,180 gallons of water. From the first of January, 1888, to the end of July, the number of revolutions made by the pumps were 15,902,480, and the number of gallons of water pumped amounted to 318,049,580.

The pulp works are in operation day and night. Two crews are employed. One is in charge of Joseph Howells and the other in charge of James Pusey. The crew that is on night work one week, change to day work the next week. Each crew tries to make the best record. Pusey's crew has the lead so far. The record is: At night, 11,221 pounds; at day, 9,330 pounds, being a little over ten tons in 24 hours.

Stove coal has gone up fifty cents per ton, and the price now is delivered $7 per ton. The raise is caused by the coal trust in Pennsylvania who thus place an extra tax on the people without any reason except that of increasing their already large gains. Mr. Blaine says it is no business of the people to interfere with trusts, and thus the only thing to do is to submit to the extra tax imposed by the coal monopoly. The time will come when the people will interfere with trusts and in no gentle manner either.

The State Military Board met in Lansing last week, adopted resolutions thanking Senator Stockbridge for the use of his field at Mackinac for camping purposes, and Senator Palmer for his aid in securing the attendance of the regulars at the encampment. The pay rolls of the troops were passed and other accounts were audited, and the money will probably be distributed this week. As yet the accounts have not all been balanced, but it is thought the expenses of the Mackinac affair will not be much in excess of the encampment at Brighton, although the attendance this year was 500 more than ever before. The matter of holding future encampments upon the island will be considered and decided upon next winter.—Ex.

The Union Square Uncle Tom's Cabin troupe, which tried to represent that obsolete play at the Opera House, Wednesday night, did not have a very large audience. This city is afflicted about once a year with a troupe that will persist in giving that noted play without the scenic effects, which only can make it worth seeing. The troupe, Wednesday night, we think was about the worst one that has given that drama here. Is it not about time that Uncle Tom was given a rest? A feature of the play, as rendered Wednesday, was the manner in which some of the actors would die, and then be resurrected and appear in other characters.

Saturday afternoon last the mill boarding house of J. L. Sanborn & Sons, at Oshtemo, was destroyed by fire. The school house, near by, was also burned. The loss is about $4,000. On the boarding house and furniture there is an insurance of $2,000, in companies represented by Kelley & McDonald. The school house was owned by W. H. Sanborn, and was not insured. The school seats were saved. A store house where lumbering materials were kept was also burned. It is not known how the fire originated. The loss of the boarding house causes great inconvenience, owing to the want of sleeping accommodations.

The members of the Cleveland & Thurman club were addressed by J. D. Turnbull, at the regular meeting last Wednesday night. He spoke of the necessity of getting logs from Canada to maintain the business interests of this city. The timber here would be used up in a few years, and it was necessary that a supply should be obtained elsewhere. Under the Mills bill, if it became a law, there were good prospects of Alpena being supplied with Canada logs for years. It was therefore to the interest of every laboring man here to vote for tariff reform. Mr. Turnbull explained what trusts were and showed how they were fostered by a protective tariff. A few remarks were made by W. H. Phelps, who also stated that a Cleveland club consisting of 37 old soldiers had been formed.

It will soon be time for the county fair. The future success of this city depends on the development of the agricultural interests of the county, and the fair is one way in which the farming industries are assisted. We trust it will be a success. The farmers should make a good display, as it shows the capabilities of their farms. From the display at the fair most people are posted as to what the farmers can do. The fair is the annual advertisement of the farmers. It is also a good plan for the fair officials to provide a series of amusements, so that the day can be spent enjoyably by the persons present. A special train should be engaged for the afternoon of the last day, to carry people from the city to the fair grounds at reasonable rates. A base ball match should be arranged, also races, parades of uniformed societies, etc.

The musical entertainment given by the Noss family at the Opera House, Thursday night, was much enjoyed by the many persons present. The musical and vocal selections were capitally rendered, and the character sketches good. The parts taken by Bertha and May, the two youngest members of the troupe, were especially worthy of praise. Little Bertha's exhibition of the drum major's baton drill, and the manual of arms, brought her warm applause. In one of the band pieces, little Bertha performed on a variety of instruments, such as the snare drum, cymbals, bass drum, tambourine, bells, etc. The character acting of May was also good, and her singing pleasant. All the members of the family are musicians, and their brass band selections were admirably rendered. The entertainment concluded with a comic opera, "The Lottery Ticket," that caused many a hearty laugh. The Opera House was well filled.

Mr. Maltz volunteered a short speech at the Republican rally Saturday night which was mostly devoted to the article in the ARGUS last week, in regard to the limit of the lumber industries. The speaker thought the fact should not be made known, and stated his belief that the way to do was to go on until the logs were all used up and then go and get Canada logs. In other words he believed in trusting to luck in regard to maintaining the lumber industries. On that subject we differ with Mr. Maltz. The time to speak of the log question is at present, when there is a chance of securing a large supply, which would maintain a prosperous business here until the agricultural interests of the county were developed, and then the future of Alpena is assured. The way to help Alpena is to vote for the Democratic tariff reduction bill, which will enable Canada logs to be brought to the mills here for manufacture, and will also lighten the taxable burdens of the people. The protective tariff is of no benefit to Alpena people, and only taxes them for the benefit of trusts and millionaires.

Teachers—Ventilation.

At a meeting of the Teachers' Institute for this county, last week, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we, the teachers of Alpena county, in Teachers' Institute assembled, on having heard Prof. F. S. Dewey's lecture on ventilation, which was the most pleasing and instructive we have ever heard, and in view of such vital importance to the sanitary health of our schools, and after having seen Prof. Dewey's experiments with his proposed plan of ventilation of school rooms, based upon scientific principles, we unanimously pronounce it an excellent plan, and feeling confident that this discovery would be an invaluable acquisition towards the perfection of the arrangement and construction of school rooms, we would recommend it to the consideration of school boards throughout this district. And we hope the time is not far distant when we shall see every school room in the county ventilated by this method which Prof. Dewey has so successfully worked out. Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be published in each of the Alpena papers.

Republican Rally.

Posters were displayed about the city last week, notifying the people that the Republicans would meet in the Opera House Saturday night and put on their war paint and organize so as to be better able to resist the assault of the Democrats. Consequently a number of the Republicans assembled at that place, and, including Democrats, there were about 150 persons. Judge Emerick was selected chairman and Grant Rutherford secretary. Ward clubs were organized with following officers:

First ward. B. R. Young, president; F. N. Fletcher, secretary and treasurer; W. D. Hitchcock, captain; Albert Pack, first lieutenant; F. Emerick, second lieutenant, and T. G. Spratt, color sergeant.

Second ward. J. J. Potter, president; C. L. Phillips, secretary; J. D. Potter, treasurer; W. E. Rogers, captain; O. L. Partridge, first lieutenant; W. Frieze, second lieutenant, and W. T. Ferguson, color sergeant.

Third ward. E. Q. Avery, president; Geo. Nairn, captain; J. L. McKnight, first lieutenant and W. Hoy, second lieutenant.

It was decided to have uniformed clubs and torchlight processions and try and scare the Democrats with a display of fireworks. In a week or two the advocates of a burdensome tariff tax are to parade on the streets. The Democrats will act as spectators.

During the session State treasurer Maltz, W. T. Ferguson and J. L. McDonald went among the persons present and solicited them to join their club and to sign the club lists.

Tuesday of last week Chas. Langlois, one of the clerks in the city post office, asked for and obtained leave of absence to go to Long Lake, but instead, got on board the express and went to Detroit. He had been watched for some time, on account of suspicious actions. As soon as it was discovered that he had gone to Detroit, an examination of the postoffice finances was made and it was then ascertain that some $62 had been taken out of the till. Postoffice detective O'Neil, of Detroit, was notified, and Langlois was arrested Thursday. The Detroit Free Press reports as follows concerning the case: "Langlois was brought before assistant U. S. district attorney Wilkins, Thursday, and searched, $6 in money and a bulky letter to an Alpena man, which had been opened in transit, being found upon him. He denies any criminal intent in taking the money, saying that it was usual for him to take money from the stamp drawer and replace it, and that he had intended returning at once to Alpena, only coming to Detroit on a visit." It was expected that Langlois would be brought to this city Saturday, and an officer was waiting for him, but Uncle Sam declined to let him come, and the case will probably be decided by the U. S. officials at Detroit.

Langlois was also in the habit of getting responsible citizens to endorse his notes, which he would get discounted. As far as we can learn all these notes have been taken up except one for $40. What he did with the money has not been ascertained. He received a good salary as postoffice clerk.

Circuit Court.

The Circuit Court adjourned Friday last and meets again on the 18th. The cases decided were as follows:

People vs S. S. Mosser, felonious assault—prisoner acquitted.

The cases of the people vs M. Schlapinski, for selling unwholesome meat, and Eli Decari, for keeping saloon open after hours, were disposed of by the defendants paying the fines imposed in justice court.

S. Rosenthal vs A. Bryant—verdict for plaintiff of $160.38. C. Stein vs E. Donovan—verdict for plaintiff of six cents. J. R. McDonald vs Chas. H. Morse—verdict for defendant, no cause for action. W. H. Phelps vs Home Insurance company—transferred to the U. S. Court. M. Kelly vs Diana Richardson—transferred to U. S. Court. J. B. White vs Heney & Brebner—judgment for plaintiff, for $152.25. M. C. Myers vs B. Kaichon—verdict for defendant, no cause of action. Turnbull & Dufos vs Maple Ridge—verdict for plaintiff of $307. H. Mechenburg vs H. R. Morse—verdict for plaintiff of $31.94. J. D. Turnbull vs Alpena township—verdict for plaintiff of $570.87. G. H. Broeffle vs C. W. McKenzie—verdict, no cause for action. H. C. Morse vs J. E. Denton—verdict for plaintiff of six cents. Holmes Brothers vs L. Partridge—judgment for defendant of $8.76. G. S. Lester vs Diana Richardson—transferred to U. S. Court. G. Robinson vs Albert Pack and others—transferred to Alpena county.

Six cases were settled and forty-seven cases were carried over to future sessions of the court.

That Game of Base Ball.

Saturday afternoon last the printers and firemen met in mortal combat on the diamond at the fair grounds. When Greek met Greek then comes the tug of war, and victory wavered between the contestants until the last innings, when she lit down on the fire boys and crowned them champions of the base ball contest.

For the printers, the Angus had charge of the pitcher's box and third base; the Pioneer was on guard at first base and center field, and the Journal was on duty at second base and short stop. All three papers were annihilated when standing behind the bat. There was where their weakness lay, and brought about the frown of Madam Victory.

In the first innings the fire boys turned on a general alarm and before the printers had recovered from the shock had made 14 runs. In the second innings the printers picked up their mallets and "pied" the fire boys so badly that a nice string of 14 runs was set on the galley, and the fire boys given a 0. The printers maintained the lead until the fourth innings when the fire boys, having got a good pressure, succeeded in tying the printers—the score then being 24 to 24. The last innings was for gore, and the fire boys got it, winning the game by one run.

The fire brigade were reinforced by the telephone and paper pulp factory, and the printers tried unsuccessfully to secure the gas works. The following will show the runs made by the different members:
